

Mary Brown

February 9, 2021

Mary Brown, who relished being called Mary, Mom, Aunt Mary, or Nani, depending on her relationship with the person she, no doubt loved, died on Tuesday, February 9th, 2021, at age 90, of complications of COVID. Born in Syracuse into the family of the late Joseph and Frances (Montaya) Fedele, and her sisters, Toni Riley and Millie Marciano, she was a graduate of St. Anthony of Padua High School.

Her loving spirit is carried on by her eight children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren and an extended family of relatives and friends from every walk of life. Anyone who knew her would have been struck by her loving nature, and probably would have been surprised by the gracious hugs she would readily dispense to friend and stranger alike. To Mary, love was life, and she lived her life accordingly, always ready to connect to any person who was smart enough to spend a brief moment getting to know her. A moment is all she needed to impress upon someone that they were in the presence of a loving and generous person. Her love was rooted in faith, and she was the best example of someone who lived by her values.

Her loving spirit was reflected in the artwork she enjoyed sharing, especially during the Christmas holiday when she would spend weeks making cookies, decorating the house, the Christmas tree with a delightfully quaint Christmas village under the tree, along with the family favorite, a painting of a Christmas scene on the picture window in the living room where all the neighbors could see and enjoy as well. Her talent and love will be sorely missed.

She is survived by her husband, Gerald F. Brown, affectionately known as "Jerry", especially by Mary who always prefaced her comments to her husband of nearly 70 years, "Oh Jerry ..." even while arguing with him adding the phrase, "That's ridiculous, Jerry" or the reply, "Don't be ridiculous, Jerry". Also surviving are her eight children, Virginia, Robert, Patricia, David, James, Laurie, Nancy, and Stephen; her seventeen grandchildren, Katrina, Joseph, Kimberly, Nicole, Justin, Lindsey, Christopher, Patrick, Jeffery, Joshua, Jessica, Carrie Ann, Kyle, Ryan, Daniel, Gavin, and Olivia and nine great-grandchildren. To Mary's many nieces and nephews, extended family and friends, all who dearly loved her, know that she loved you as well.
